

KIDS+CREATIVITY NETWORK ASSEMBLY
DECEMBER 5, 2014 2:30–4:30pm

Welcome & State of the Network Address
Cathy Lewis Long, The Sprout Fund

Looking Back on 2014

Early Learning

Michelle Figlar, PAEYC

Playful Pittsburgh Collaborative

Cara Ciminillo, PAYEC

Marijke Hecht, Pittsburgh Parks Conservancy
Marilyn Russell, Carnegie Museum of Art

Maker Learning

Lisa Abel Palmieri, The Ellis School

STEAM Learning

Rosanne Javorsky, Allegheny Intermediate Unit

Digital Learning

Ani Martinez, The Sprout Fund
Shani Banerjee, Digital Corps member
Nic Jaramillo, Hilltop YMCA

Youth Voice

James Brown, Homewood Bruston YMCA
Hezekiah Moore, Lighthouse Project alum

Jess Pachuta, Hear Me, CREATE Lab at CMU
Rahim Turner & Aricka Stoutmire,
Propel Andrew Street High School students

Parent Engagement

Jennifer Stancil, WQED Multimedia

Looking Ahead to 2015

CONTEXT 2015

Dror Yaron, CREATE Lab at CMU

Youth Express

Larry Berger, SLB Radio

National STEM Video Game Challenge

Mark German & Barrie Adleberg, E-Line Media

Making with ACTION-Housing

Lisa Brahms & Peter Wardrip, Children's Museum

Tech Fluency Framework

Todd Hoffman, Environmental Charter School
Scott Gutowski, Pittsburgh Public Schools

Remake Learning Playbook

Randy Paris, The Sprout Fund

Closing & Happy Hour Invitation

Toonseum, 945 Liberty Ave, Downtown
Music & refreshments until 6:30pm

KIDS+CREATIVITY NETWORK ASSEMBLY
DECEMBER 5, 2014 2:30–4:30pm

Welcome & State of the Network Address
Cathy Lewis Long, The Sprout Fund

Looking Back on 2014

Early Learning

Michelle Figlar, PAEYC

Playful Pittsburgh Collaborative

Cara Ciminillo, PAYEC

Marijke Hecht, Pittsburgh Parks Conservancy
Marilyn Russell, Carnegie Museum of Art

Maker Learning

Lisa Abel Palmieri, The Ellis School

STEAM Learning

Rosanne Javorsky, Allegheny Intermediate Unit

Digital Learning

Ani Martinez, The Sprout Fund
Shani Banerjee, Digital Corps member
Nic Jaramillo, Hilltop YMCA

Youth Voice

James Brown, Homewood Bruston YMCA
Hezekiah Moore, Lighthouse Project alum

Jess Pachuta, Hear Me, CREATE Lab at CMU
Rahim Turner & Aricka Stoutmire,
Propel Andrew Street High School students

Parent Engagement

Jennifer Stancil, WQED Multimedia

Looking Ahead to 2015

CONTEXT 2015

Dror Yaron, CREATE Lab at CMU

Youth Express

Larry Berger, SLB Radio

National STEM Video Game Challenge

Mark German & Barrie Adleberg, E-Line Media

Making with ACTION-Housing

Lisa Brahms & Peter Wardrip, Children's Museum

Tech Fluency Framework

Todd Hoffman, Environmental Charter School
Scott Gutowski, Pittsburgh Public Schools

Remake Learning Playbook

Randy Paris, The Sprout Fund

Closing & Happy Hour Invitation

Toonseum, 945 Liberty Ave, Downtown
Music & refreshments until 6:30pm

The Kids+Creativity Network is a community of more than 200 schools, museums & libraries, afterschool & neighborhood centers, colleges & universities, educational technology entrepreneurs, and philanthropies working to remake learning in Pittsburgh, West Virginia, and beyond.

2014 was a year of increased depth and reach—in schools, in communities, and among our region's leadership. As a collaborative, connected network, our potential to provide all children and youth with remarkable learning experiences is greater than ever.

Building on our regional strengths in creative arts, maker practices, digital technologies, early childhood education, and media production, members of the Kids+Creativity Network made meaningful contributions to some of the most important topics in learning innovation today, both on the local level and at a national scale.

Lead support for the Pittsburgh Kids+Creativity Network is provided in part by the generosity of:

MacArthur
Foundation

CLAUDE
WORTHINGTON
BENEDUM
FOUNDATION

HILLMAN
FOUNDATION

McCune
Foundation

With Appreciation for Today's Event:
Pittsburgh Cultural Trust
Toonseum
Emily Marko, graphic facilitator
J.Malls, happy hour DJ

To learn more about the people, projects, and organizations of the Kids+Creativity Network, please visit us at remakelearning.org.

The Kids+Creativity Network is a community of more than 200 schools, museums & libraries, afterschool & neighborhood centers, colleges & universities, educational technology entrepreneurs, and philanthropies working to remake learning in Pittsburgh, West Virginia, and beyond.

2014 was a year of increased depth and reach—in schools, in communities, and among our region's leadership. As a collaborative, connected network, our potential to provide all children and youth with remarkable learning experiences is greater than ever.

Building on our regional strengths in creative arts, maker practices, digital technologies, early childhood education, and media production, members of the Kids+Creativity Network made meaningful contributions to some of the most important topics in learning innovation today, both on the local level and at a national scale.

Lead support for the Pittsburgh Kids+Creativity Network is provided in part by the generosity of:

MacArthur
Foundation

CLAUDE
WORTHINGTON
BENEDUM
FOUNDATION

HILLMAN
FOUNDATION

McCune
Foundation

With Appreciation for Today's Event:
Pittsburgh Cultural Trust
Toonseum
Emily Marko, graphic facilitator
J.Malls, happy hour DJ

To learn more about the people, projects, and organizations of the Kids+Creativity Network, please visit us at remakelearning.org.